CORPORATE IMAGE & PAINT FACILITIES

ROWLEY

In today's modern commercial business environment, image is extremely important. A corporate identity and theme promote a business and can reflect on the quality of a business's services or products.

Rowley Contracts have a full commercial vehicle paint shop and remarketing facility, which can brand new vehicles or offer a full refurbishment service of older vehicles. Additionally we can manage accident damage and liaise with your insurers to swiftly return your vehicles to working assets.

It is common practice for Rowleys client's contracted vehicles to display their client's corporate image. Vehicles will appear to be solely owned and operated by the client. Promotional marketing material can be displayed on vehicles during a client's campaign and we can assist in the design and fitment of such promotions.
